What are the Markers Really Looking For?

- Short answer Success is not about naming techniques.
- "Only read the unseen text in relation to the questions".
- Answer the whole question
- How a text creates meaning

"Don't borrow time and think you can get it back."

- "Spend the right amount of time on each question."
- Use well-chosen evidence.
Che most-appropriate,
it matters!!!!)
(not always the most obvious)
- Explain / analyse / evaluate the effect of the example.
- "Always go for the evaluation"
- DO NOT paraphrase or recount!!!
- Engage specifically with what aspect of the human experience is being represented in the text/s
- Make a clear judgement about how meaning is represented.

1. Read the Question
(What am I being asked to prove?)

2. Identify the idea
(What human experience, emotion, value or tension is being explored?)

3. Choose evidence carefully
4. Analyse how meaning is made
5. Evaluate the effect.

Strategies

1. Because/But/So
2. Each start with IQTVE
3. Start like: "at the heart of the text..."
4. Integrate emotions.
